COVER LETTER BY

MIKE PRIMAK

WEB DEVELOPER

I have been a hobbyist web developer for the past thirteen years; I am now pursuing a career as a professional web developer. I am very capable in JavaScript, HTML, CSS and have recently developed a foundation in ReactJS. I also have backend experience with SQL databases, PHP and Python. I am looking to join a company of any size, as either their sole web developer or as a member of a team. I am excited to contribute my talents to furthering the good of a group.

As a hobbyist I have experience building consumer grade web-apps utilizing a full stack of web technologies. As a professional I have experience managing a software development department overseeing the work of developers, designers and support staff. I am a seasoned learner, an expert trouble shooter and a capable communicator. I can confidently solve any technical problem that your organization comes across.

I am happy to speak with you about how my experience and abilities match your needs. You are welcome to contact me at 1-289-838-2575 or by email at michaelsprimak@gmail.com if you have any questions. I look forward to speaking with you.
